

Denise Stringer Receives “Best Of Houzz 2015” Award

Creative Interior Designer selected from more than 500,000 home building, remodeling and design industry professionals

Hilton Head Island, SC, January 29, 2015 -- Denise Stringer has been awarded "Best of Houzz 2015" for customer satisfaction by Houzz, the leading platform for home building, remodeling and design. For this award, Denise was selected from more than 500,000 professional architects, builders and interior designers.

"I am honored to receive this prestigious award based upon the satisfaction of my clients. With total commitment for every project, it is fulfilling to work with clients to assist them in creating their dream home—often over years from conceptualization to completion. It is especially rewarding to be re-engaged when clients embark on new projects, underscoring the lasting relationships that are forged through the process," said Denise Stringer, Interior Designer.

With over 30 years of experience creating distinctive, timeless and comfortable living spaces, Denise has worked with clients from Maine to Florida, Nevada, Colorado and internationally creating award-winning luxury homes ranging from 5,000 to 20,000 square feet in a variety of styles and locations.

"Denise listens intently to her clients' needs, develops innovative design solutions and works seamlessly with the architect, builder and tradesmen to deliver award-winning homes for her clients. I have personally experienced this, as she designed the interiors of my own home," said Dudley King, president of Plantation Interiors.

“Denise does not simply design interiors; she creates beautiful homes and builds trusting relationships that last a lifetime,” said Dr. Virginia Herrmann, a client of Denise Stringer.

Providing a comprehensive, hands on approach, Denise selects all interior and exterior home finishes including color, texture, functionality, proportion, lighting and aesthetics. Denise often uses her design expertise to create custom light fixtures, unique one-of-a-kind furniture, and integrate outdoor living areas and gardens to create truly unified spaces.
